No department of Barium Springs has undergone more changes in the last 15 years than our school. We believe that a description of these changes will help you to realize just what our school is today.

Let's commence with the fall of 1924. At that time, Mr. T. L. O'Kelly was secured as principal, coming to Barium from Westminster School in Rutherford County. He set about the momumental task of strengthening all the departments in the high school. We were weak in mathematics, in languages and in English.

Mr. O'Kelly first strengthened the mathematics department, then the language and finally the English. During his years here, from the fall of 1924 until commencement of 1935, there was a consistent improvement in our entire school system, especially in the high school.

MR. R. G. CALHOUN, Principal

During those years, the Orphanage school was run on a half-day system. The fourth, sixth, seventh and half of the eighth grades went to school in the afternoon; the others went to school in the mornings.

School started at 7:30 and continued until 12:00; then from 1:00 p. m. to 5:00. The children went to school in the afternoon, worked in the morning; and those who went to school in the morning worked in the afternoon. All of the work was carried on in this way with just grown people enough to supervise and direct the work.

MISS REBA THOMPSON

It required one or two more teachers under this system than we have been using since but there were some splendid features connected with it. The children really learned to do work in a more thorough manner under that system than under the present one. There were more failures in school and less time to really devote to the school work but the whole thing totalled up as a valuable arrangement.

In 1932, there was a big agitation for the Orphanage to go into the state school system and the following fall this was attempted. At first, the idea was for the state to pay the teachers and for the Or-

ENCOURAGING REPORTS HEARD BY THE REGENTS AT RECENT SESSIONS

Report of Superintendent Showed Progress Made in Many Departments

MORTGAGE LIFTED

Most of Indebtedness Has Been Eliminated.—Resolutions Passed

Seventeen of the 20 members of the board of regents of the Presbyterian Orphans' Home met in semi-annual sessions here Monday night and Tuesday morning, May 24th and 25th. The three absentees were detained by personal illnesses or illness within the family.

Annual reports of the fiscal year were made by Superintendent Joesph B. Johnston and Treasurer Ernest Milton.

Mr. Johnston's report dealt with the general tenor of the many phases of the life at the Orphanage and the operation of the various departments. He touched upon the problems facing the graduates and especially those finishing before they were 18 years old, and called attention of the regents to the exceptional school record in promotions and accomplishments. He dwelt at length on that side of social security legislation which will in the future affect dependent children.

The superintendent, who has had conferences recently with State and national officials in his capacity as a member of the committee, urged the regents to do their utmost to help educate each locality as to which dependent children will be eligible for State and national assistance, and also as to which children rightly deserve consideration for admittance into Orphanages.

He pointed out that the available aid after July 1 will decidedly affect some of the former salient reasons for accepting certain children into homes of this nature.

VASS S. S. AND KINGS MTN. PRESBYTERY LED

Vass Is New-Comer to Leadership.–Kings Mountain Presbytery Also Led Last Year

Vass Sunday School was at the topmost pinnacle of per capita regular giving by the individual Sunday Schools in the Synod of North Carolina last year, and Kings Mountain Presbytery continued to maintain its leadership of the eight other Presbyteries in per capita regular gifts from Sunday Schools within its bounds.

Olivia Sunday School has been an almost perpetual leader in this field for many, many years, but Vass Sunday School bounded forward from sixth place a year ago to leap ahead of intervening Sunday Schools to this unusual distinction. Vass had an average of $1.27 per member in 1935-1936, but made a jump of $1.20 a member more during 1936-1937 to give it a grand average of $2.47 per person enrolled for the year.

Runner-up a year ago to Olivia was the Concord First Sunday School, but Warrenton had something to say about this in 1936-1937, for this Granville Presbytery Sunday School has second place with a $2.27 average.

Kings Mountain Presbytery did not relinquish its hold on first place, but strengthened it during the past 12 months. A year ago Concord Presbytery was runner-up to Kings Mountain, but during 1936-1937, Winston-Salem Presbytery made a gain of 8.2 cents per Sunday School member to have the honor of second position. Winston-Salem was fourth in 1935-

Great News

Add Antioch Sunday School, in Fayetteville Presbytery, to that ever-increasing number of Sunday Schools which are giving the Orphanage an Offering-per-month. Antioch started the plan on the fourth Sunday in May, and the first Offering has been received.

Some time ago a telephone call was received at the Orphanage one Sunday Morning about 9 o'clock. The question asked was, "What is the approximate cost of supporting a child at the Orphanage?" this being followed by the statement, "I want to present this to the Class this morning. I don't know how much they can do, but we're going to do something" was the assurance. That particular group was the Huntington Bible Class of Caldwell Memorial Sunday School, and they are going to do something for the Orphanage—to the tune of $300.00 to support a child here. Of that amount, $269 was subscribed the morning of the telephone call, the remainder being pledged later. This will therefore be a special over and above the regular budget of the Huntington Bible Class. The first sum on that $300.00 has been received.

The Auxiliary of the Church-of-the-Covenant in Greensboro has increased its monthly appropriation to the Orphanage from $8.00 to $9.00. The Graham Auxiliary has increased its giving from $6.00 a month to $8.00 monthly. Officials have heard indirectly of other Auxiliaries which are increasing the monthly appropriations, though definite statements of these increases have not yet been made. You will be told about them as the authorities here are acquainted with the increases.

REV. W. C. BROWN WILL RETIRE FROM MINISTRY

Forty-one Years in the Ministry Will Be Completed on July 1st

Rev. W. C. Brown, who for the past 12½ years has been pastor of Little Joe's Church at Barium Springs, on May 30th announced his resignation of the local pastorate and his retirement from the ministry, both to become effective on July 1. That date will mark his completion of 41 years in the ministry, for Mr. Brown accepted his first charge on July 1, 1896.

The congregation of the local church concurred in Mr. Brown's request for the termination of his call at Little Joe's Church. Before this action was taken Joseph B. Johnston, superintendent of the Orphanage, spoke to the congregation in appreciation of the years of effective work on the part of Mr. Brown. The congregation accepted the resignation regretfully and appointed a committee of three to draw up suitable resolutions anent Mr. Brown's particular work at the Orphanage. G. M. Young was moderator of the congregational meeting. He and R. E. Jackins were appointed as a committee to attend Presbytery when action is taken by that body.

The committee to draw up the resolutions is made up of J. H. Lowrance, elder; Ernest Milton, deacon, and Miss Kate Taylor from the Auxiliary. A committee has not yet been appointed to consider a successor to Mr. Brown.

Mr. Brown was graduated from Davidson College in 1893, completed his work at Union Theological Seminary in 1896 and immediately began active work as pastor of the Concord Iredell, Front Street and New Salem Churches. After 10 years' and 10 months' work in that field he went to Raeford. For over seventeen years he served churches in that section. During the first seven years he was pastor of the Raeford, Bethel and Montpelier Churches. He then gave up the work at Montpelier and for two more years served Bethel and

SEVERAL AUXILIARIES SPONSORING UNUSUAL PROJECTS AT BARIUM

Dining Room Is Being Painted by One.—Two Auxiliaries Adopt Some Cottages

MAKE VISITS HERE

Some Are Re-finishing Memorial Rooms.—To Be More Attractive

Several of the Auxiliaries of the Synod have launched upon particular projects to benefit the Orphanage. All of them are undertaking these "specials" over and above the regular planned budget and giving of their organizations. As a result of these efforts, which will probably be augmented by other Auxiliaries joining in, the Home is going to be more attractive and a more delightful place in which the children will live.

A member of the Concord First Auxiliary was at Barium one afternoon last fall. She passed through the dining room. She noticed that some plaster was falling down from the ceiling and some on the sides was also broken. The dining room didn't appear very bright to her. She went back home, did some thinking and agreed to accept the Orphanage Secretaryship another year because she said she had one thing in mind that she wanted her Auxiliary to do. That was, to paint the dining room in lighter colors, put up curtains and brighten it in general. She presented the matter to the ladies of her Auxiliary and they agreed to undertake this large expense of painting the dining room at Barium in which all of the children eat three times a day. The necessary plastering has been done and by the time this copy of The Messenger reaches you the painting will be in full swing. The outlay involved will be approximately $235.00 for the paint and labor and later on she expects to get her Auxiliary to put up curtains.

MRS. JOE CLARK DIED IN STATESVILLE IN MAY

Barium Community Was Saddened by This Death.—Funeral Was on May 22nd

The entire Barium community was grieved and saddened last month by the death of Mrs. Lottie Parks Trotter Clark, 47, wife of Mr. Joe Clark, Barium's truck farm manager. Her death occurred in a Statesville hospital at 3 o'clock Friday morning, May 21st. Mrs. Clark spent almost two weeks in the hospital before she underwent a serious operation on Wednesday prior to her death.

It was soon learned after the operation that her condition was precarious, and the most frequent question on the campus was, "How is Mrs. Clark?" Blood transfusions were given her in an effort to save her life, but to no avail.

Her friends at Barium mourn the passing of this lovable Christain character—a person who loved her home and her family and who ministered to their needs unselfishly and faithfully. For two years Mrs. Clark had suffered considerably, though the fact was not generally known, because she always presented a pleasing and delightful countenance to those who went to see her.

Mrs. Clark was the daughter of the late Rufus B. Trotter and Mrs. Hannah McCall Trotter of the Sugaw Creek community near Charlotte. Her early life was spent in that section. After graduating from the Charlotte high school she attended Appalachian Teachers College and Lenoir-Rhyne College. For several years she taught in phanage to furnish everything else. During the first year, the state did provide for a few teachers, with everything else going along as usual. It was a nine months' school term, the state assisting with eight of these months.

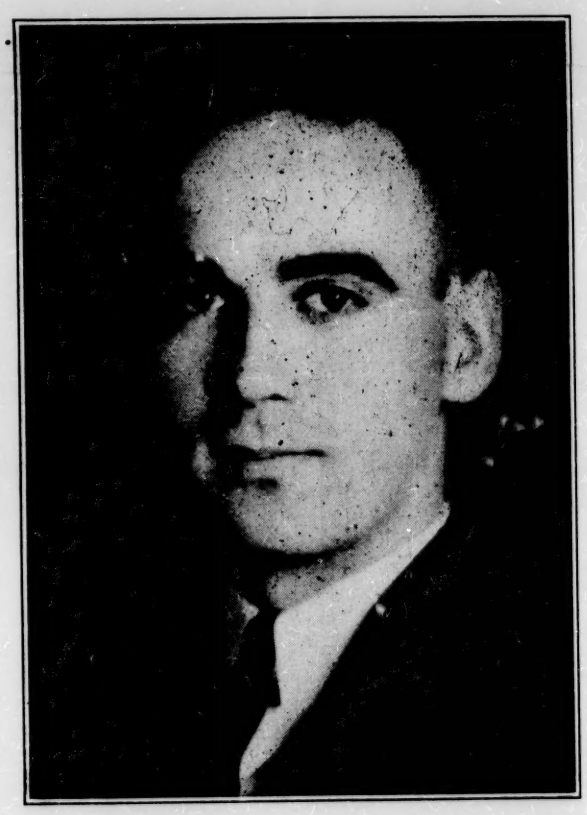
Then, it was found necessary to conform to the state hours and length of term. We had to lengthen the hours of the day and shorten the term to eight months.

This brought about complications. We were unable to get into our regular half-day periods the hours required by the state. For one year we attempted to lengthen these. We started school at 7:30 in the mornings and taught until one o'clock. We started the afternoon session at 2:00 and taught until 6:30. We had supper at 7:30, then study hour, and the youngsters finally got to bed about 10 o'clock.

One year of this arrangement was enough to convince us that it was entirely impractical. We were faced with two propositions.



MR. LEROY SOSSAMON

One was to go on a full day school plan; the other was to drop the state school system entirely.

The decision was made to teach the full day, and for the last three years this has been the plan. School starts at 8:30 and runs until 2:30 in the afternoon, with an hour-and-a-half study hour at night.

This has tended to improve our school. There are fewer failures, more honor roll candidates, and possibly a fresher, livelier bunch of youngsters in classes. However, on the other hand, it has practically eliminated group work. Only the dairy boys and the dining room girls continue their full assignments. The work of these departments has been described in detail and we won't attempt to go into that. For all the others, their work time is only from 2:30 in the afternoon until 5:00. The many interruptions in this particular time make it total up very little actual work done by the children during the school term.

As far as the boys are concerned they catch up when school is out, and some of the girls' departments do likewise.

We don't want to bring in a description of the other departments too much on this, as this article is mainly about the schools.

In building up our school various departments were added. The commercial department; then domestic science; then kindergarten after the Baby Cottage was added to the Orphanage, and three extra teachers for coaching backward students and for ungraded rooms. During this time there was once when the Orphanage had 377 children enrolled and 17 teachers in all the departments of the school.

When the school was put under the state system various departments were dropped. These were the kindergarten, the domestic science and commercial departments. All of the teachers of ungraded rooms were dropped and the coaching of backward students was discontinued.

The first and second grades were combined. Thus there were six teachers below the high school and five teachers in the high school, including the principal. Sometimes the state pays four of these high school teachers and sometimes three, depending on the average daily attendance, and the average daily attendance of the Troutman High School, of which Barium is technically a part. The past year the state paid for three high school and five grade teachers, eight out of a total of 12.

For the last two years, Mr. R. G. Calhoun has been principal and has worked out plans in connection with the state department in a most satisfactory manner. During the last year we were able to increase the number of teachers in the grammar school, which allows one teacher for each grade. The work of this whole department of the grammar school, of course, heads up with the seventh grade. We are glad to state that the state-wide examinations that are given the seventh grade have shown up our school in a most commendable way ever since these examinations have been given. The Barium Springs' seventh grade has led Iredell County for five years handrunning. Mrs. J. Q. Holton teaches the seventh grade and is the senior member of our faculty. She seems to be the member of the faculty whom the graduates remember longest and oftenest.

We wish we could insert extracts from letters from these graduates in this article.

The burden of these letters conveys this idea: That Mrs. Holton is the person who really made these more or less irresponsible students realize the necessity and the way to study. She was the one who trained them into the habits that made their high school careers a success. They did not realize that she was doing this to them at the time, but they do realize it after leaving school.

The size of the graduating classes has shown a change; also their complexion. Back in the early twenties there were usually six or seven in a graduating class, and at least three-fourths of these were girls. We had almost arrived at the idea that "book-larnin" was sissy. However, along about this time Barium commenced to take an interest in athletics, too, and the boys began to realize that an education, far from being sissy, was the door to some of the reddest-blood activity open to any man. The size of the graduating classes has steadily increased and the proportion of the boys and girls have changed until now one or two more boys than girls graduate. The average class now numbers 20.

At times a group of girls will want to go to college, but as a general thing, there more boys seeking higher education than girls. At the present time there are four girls and 20 boys in the various colleges.

Flora Macdonald is the most popular college for the girls; Davidson for the boys.

The school sponsors a full athletic program and is entering more and more into contests of music, debating and declamation.

The vocational departments, such as domestic art and printing,

An Alumna's Letter

DEATH OF MRS. LOTTIE V. WALKER WELLS IS REVEALED

1521 N. Park Ave.
Chicago, Ills.
May 19, 1937

To Editor Barium Messenger:

Dear Editor:

Having been one of the girls of your Orphanage in the year of 1918, I wish to announce, for your paper, the recent death of my youngest sister, Mrs. J. Wells (nee Lottie V. Walker), 29 Garfield Place, Cincinnati, Ohio, who was also at the Orphanage at the same time. She had been in bad health for quite a number of months, suffering with heart infection. She passed away Saturday morning at 10:30, May 15th.

Miss Maggie Adams was her matron while at the Orphanage. Also, Miss Janie McEachern was the principal of the school. I shall always remember her as one of the most outstanding women of my life—a character of love and understanding for everyone that no one could forget.

Now, a few brief words about myself. After leaving Barium I graduated as a nurse at St. Joseph's Hospital, Lexington, Ky., and followed my profession until 1926, when I was married. Since then I have spent a few years in traveling, having been through all the states but four. I am now settled here in Chicago and like it fine. Have not heard from any of the Barium boys and girls I knew while there since I went away, as I have been out of the state of North Carolina since then. But I have often thought of them.

I shall not make my letter long, but did wish to announce the passing of my sister as some of the old boys and girls will remember her when reading the paper. If you should happen to have an extra copy of The Messenger I should like to have one. Also, will you kindly let me know the price of it for one year. This I will appreciate.

Wishing much success to "dear old Barium" for many years to come, I wish to remain one of the girls who was once there.

Sincerely yours,
Mrs. Charles L. Chapman
(Nee Mita S. Walker).

Editor's Note: We feel sure Mrs. Chapman would be delighted to hear from any of the former members of our Home from 1913 to 1918.

Cottage News

LEE'S COTTAGE

"Hello Everyone." This is Lee's Cottage on the page again. We all are going in swimming now and are having a good time.

Some of the boys have poison-oak.

Marian McCall came to see Billy, Jack and Tom McCall the other day.

Some of the boys are going on their vacations pretty soon. Gastone Allesandrini has already gone.

Miss Turner, our matron, is on her vacation now, too. Miss McDade is our matron while she is away. We like her very much.

We have a new boy at our cottage. His name is Jimmy Dorton. He is a very good boy.

So long until next month.

WOMAN'S BUILDING

Hello Folks,

You heard "about" us last month but this month you are going to hear "from" us. We girls in the sewing room are writing the news this month for Woman's Building.

Since you heard from us last, two of our girls, Hazel Miller and Cleo Sluder, have gone home for vacation. Elmeree Smith and Hattie Michael are planning to leave Friday.

Last week Gertie Smith, Sally Farmer and Daisy Cayton came to live with us. Gertie came over from the Infirmary and Sally and Daisy came from Rumple Hall. All three of them seem to like it fine.

Helen Moore has recited the Shorter Catechism and several of the other girls are almost ready to recite it.

A friend gave us a permanent wave machine and a lot of materials. One of the Juniors, Mildred Eudy, is taking a beauty course so that she may operate it.

We have a new group of girls in the sewing room with the exception of three who are Laura Smith, Jane Lyons and Sadie Eudy.

RALPH SPENCER WEDDED TO MISS BOBBY MARLOWE

Ceremony Took Place After Prayer Service on June 2nd. Both Recent Graduates

Mr. Ralph Spencer and Miss Bobby Marlowe, both of Barium Springs, were married Wednesday evening, June 2nd, at Little Joe's Presbyterian Church here. The ceremony immediately followed the Wednesday evening prayer service and was performed by the pastor, Rev. W. C. Brown.

There were no attendants, the bride and groom entering together. Miss Leila Johnston played the wedding music. She rendered the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin as a processional and softly played To a Wild Rose (McDowell) while the vows were being said. She used Mendelssohn's Wedding March for the recessional.

The bride was attractive in yellow lace and carried a nosegay, tied with blue velvet ribbon.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Spencer left on a week's wedding trip, and after their return they will be at home at Barium Springs.

Mrs. Spencer was graduated from the high School at the Presbyterian Orphans' Home this spring and since her graduation has been visiting friends at Barium. Mr. Spencer was graduated from the Orphanage in the class of 1936, and is assistant manager of the dairy here.

The young couple had planned for their marriage to take the prayer meeting audience by complete surprise, but rumor of the impending nuptial event leaked out some time during Wednesday afternoon. Complete verification of this, however, was not made until the close of the service when the pastor asked that the congregation be seated and Miss Leila Johnston started playing the wedding march.

This is one of several romances that have culminated between young people enrolled at Barium. Some of these romances recalled are Mr. and Mrs. Sam Jackins, now in Shreveport, La.; Mr. and Mrs. Guy Jackson, of Greensboro, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Gray, of Statesville, and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Todd, of Washington, D. C. There are no doubt others that are not recalled at the present time.

Facts About Income

Of the $3,624.82 that has been received at the Orphanage during April and May from the Synod, Sunday Schools sent $1,934.47; Church budgets allotted $1,096.83, and Auxiliaries were responsible for $593.52. On a percentage basis, 53.4% was forwarded by Sunday Schools, 30.2% by Churches and 16.4% by Auxiliaries. The distribution according to Presbyteries and organizations within those Presbyteries is as follows:

Presbytery	Ch.	S. S.	Aux.

SUNDAY SCHOOL MEALS

During the calendar year of 1936 meals at the Orphanage cost .2557 cents per day, that figure not only including the children but several thousand visitors that eat at Barium during the course of a year's time. That figures out at a cost of 8½ cents a meal. However, using 10 cents a meal as a basis, the gifts from the Sunday Schools for the past 26 months would have served the following number of meals:

REV. W. H. GOODMAN WAS PREACHER AT REVIVAL

Eight Joined Church at Conclusion of Sermons Delivered by Kannapolis Pastor

The Orphanage population spiritually benefited in May from several days of evangelistic services that were conducted by Rev. W. H. Goodman, pastor of the Kannapolis Presbyterian Church. Rev. Mr. Goodman began the series of seven sermons on Wednesday night, and thereafter he preached twice daily with the exception of Saturday.

Possessing a conversational style of preaching, the visiting minister talked as if he were speaking to each person individually. His sermons were effectively illustrated and his points were clearly presented. He spoke on understandable subjects of an every day nature, from which personal applications could be made by his hearers.

As a result of this preaching four boys and four girls at the Orphanage professed faith in Christ and united with Little Joe's Church.

Special music by the choir aided in the meetings.

The people here were glad that Mr. Goodman came and were uplifted by his excellent sermons. As is expressed in many of the cottage news items, it is hoped that he will come back again.

ENCOURAGING REPORTS

Presbyterians of the Synod, both regularly and at the Thanksgiving season, and through the utilization of some operating assets, the mortgage loan on orphanage properties was repaid during the last fiscal year and the indebtedness of the institution was reduced $54,309.61. The auditor's report showed aggregate liabilities of $13,268.79 on March 31st, $7,968.79 of which was current bills.

In connection with the improved financial condition, the regents passed a resolution that they "express their thanks to the people of the Synod of North Carolina for the fine Thanksgiving and regular offering of 1936-1937, which enabled the orphanage to practically get out of debt and put the orphanage in a position to render the line of service that was possible before the depression."

The Regents decided to re-instate the domestic science department as a part of the school curriculum. Two years ago the Regents took action that this be done at the earliest convenience because of the valuable preparation it gave the children at the Home. This was simply carrying to completion a prior decision of the Board.

Rev. Chester Alexander, pastor of the Howard Memorial Church at Tarboro, was welcomed as a new member. He was selected by Synod last September to replace Mr. Stamps Howard, of Tarboro, who resigned because of his inability to attend meetings of the Regents due to a conflict in local duties.

Rev. W. M. Currie, Belmont, presided as president of the Board, and Mrs. Z. V. Turlington, Mooresville, acted in her capacity as secretary.

In addition to the above three, others present were Rev. Eugene Alexander, Manchester, vice-president; Mrs. J. E. Driscoll and W. B. Bradford, both of Charlotte; Mrs. S. P. Stowe, Belmont; Karl G. Hudson, Raleigh; Mrs. W. E. White, Graham; Rev. John R. Hay, Hickory; Mrs. John Harper, Wilmington; Rev. W. M. Baker, Mebane; Mrs. H. A. Rouzer, Salisbury; Rev. R. C. Clontz, Whiteville; Mrs. L. A. McLaurin, Rowland; Prof. John W. Moore, Winston-Salem, and Mrs. J. R. Finley, North Wilkesboro.

The three detained because of illness were Mrs. I. F. Hill, Durham; Dr. J. R. McGregor, Burlington, and Mrs. Plato Monk, Farmville.

SEVENTEEN CHILDREN TO ATTEND CONFERENCES

Nine Will Go to Davidson Conference.—Eight to Enroll at 2 Mitchell Conclaves

Seventeen boys and girls from Barium Springs will attend three Young People's Conferences during the month of June and the first few days in July. Nine of them will attend the Davidson conclave, June 15-22; four of them will go to the Intermediate conference at Mitchell College, Statesville, June 21-26, and four will be delegates to the Senior conference, also to be held at Mitchell College, from June 28-July 3rd.

Four of the children who attend the Synod-wide meeting at Davidson College the middle of this month will go under the auspices and through the liberality of Little Joe's Auxiliary at Barium Springs. Four of them will attend the conference on scholarships granted by the authorities, and one other will go at her own expense. The Orphanage furnishes some of the produce used at the Mitchell Conferences, this donation allowing eight children to attend there.

Those going to the Davidson conference are Eugene Shannon, sponsored by the Business Women's Circle; Marie Smith, sponsored by the same group; Helen Thomas, sent by the Auxiliary as a unit; Nelson Farmer, financed by Circle No. 1 of Little Joe's Auxiliary; David Flowers, Martha Adams, Mary Elizabeth Sanders and Elenore Eudy, on a scholarship basis, and Leila Johnston, at her own expense.

Intermediates going to Mitchell College will be Margaret Presnell, Glenn Linsday, Sarah Parcell and Paul Horne. Those selected for the Senior Conference at Mitchell are Mary Duffie Coppedge, Martha Kinard and Walter Mott. The fourth member to the latter Mitchell meeting is yet to be named.

Sadie assists Miss Clark with the cutting, while Jane and Laura help the newcomers. The new ones are Dorothy Weeks, Martha Adams, Nellie Johnson, Elmeree Smith, Sarah Fort, Hattie Michael and Mary Elizabeth Sanders. Since school has been out, we have made around 100 dresses, not counting all the other articles that go with a clothing box.

Mr. Goodman, of Kannapolis, held a revival here May 19th through May 23rd. Everyone seems very much inspired. We hope to have Mr. Goodman with us again.

It is a great relief to leave our work in the afternoons for a swim. The pool has been opened about two weeks and we are thoroughly enjoying it. After supper we spend much of our time playing tennis.

We have had plenty of strawberries recently but they are almost gone now, much to our regret.

The Board of Regents met here last week and we were glad to see our friends again.

We have been having lots of sore arms lately as a result of typhoid vaccine. Several girls were vaccinated for smallpox. They were Minnie Lou Turner, Ernestine Garrett and Grace Shroyer.

A few days ago Daisy Bell Torrence, who is now married, came to see us and brought her small son. Irene Fort, another Barium graduate, also paid us a visit. And, Marian McCall, of Winston-Salem, was still another alumna visiting us.

Miss Adams, our matron, has been having a hard time keeping us out of the apple orchard behind our house. Green apples are quite a temptation.

Two of the girls, Mary Elizabeth Sanders and Martha Adams, are going to the Davidson Conference. Some others will accompany them.

Alice Jones and Lucile Norris are working at Mirror Lake, near Salbury, this summer.

Look for us in the July issue of The Messenger.

—The Sewing Room Girls.

BABY COTTAGE

Hello Folks:

Another month has rolled around and the boys are saying news! news! again.

The weather sure is hot and we can't work very long in our flowers at a time. But, they sure are pretty. We certainly are thankful for our playground this hot weather.

Vacation time is here, and Essie Jean Lee was the first one to go from our house.

The Regents met last week and we were so glad to have some of the ladies to look over our house.

We picked strawberries and cherries and made some real pretty preserves. My! sure was hot when we picked them.

Kenneth Mayhew, Jackie Williams, Ray and Melva Powell have had visits from their people.

Mr. Jackins brought his mother and other friends from Charlotte over to see us.

Also, James Porter brought his sister and some friends over to see us last Sunday afternoon.

We sure did enjoy having Rev. W. H. Goodman preach for us during our meeting which was held recently.

Dr. McMurray, from Statesville, showed us pictures of the Holy Land Sunday night. We enjoyed them very much.

We are very grateful to Mr. Ervin and his boys for fixing the playgrounds up so nice.

One of our big sisters, Iris Spencer, came by to see us. She had come from Flora Macdonald College and was on her way home.

—The Babies.

HOWARD COTTAGE

Vacation commences June 1st. Arabella Gray went on her vacation today. A few of the other girls are going soon.

Betty Adams had a visit from her mother, who has just returned from Florida. She is expecting a visit from her Aunt Wilma next week.

Thirteen of our girls were vaccinated for smallpox. Their arms are getting sore now and some of them are sick.

We have two little new girls at our cottage. Their names are Betty Dorton and Elizabeth Langley. They are both very nice little girls and we are glad to have them.

Two of our girls have moved to Rumple Hall. We miss them a lot. They are Mary Johnson and Lillian Saunders.

Mary Johnson recited the Shorter Catechism last week. Lula Belle Hall, Mary Alice Stevens, Edith Powell, Arabella Gray, Ruth May and Anne McDonlad recited the Child's Catechism. We are expecting a few more to recite soon.

—Marie Morgan
Betty Whittle.

ANNIE LOUISE

Dear Friends,

Since the last time we wrote you, two little new girls have come to live with us. Their names are Kathleen Pierson and Annie Langley. We enjoy having them very much.

We want to thank Mr. Sams for inviting us to see "Wake Up and Live". We enjoyed the picture very much indeed.

Miss McGoogan, our matron, went home today for her vacation. We shall miss her very much, but we are glad to have Mrs. Holton with us.

June Gray and Louise Brock went on their vacations today, too. We hope they will all have a nice time.

Patricia Hooten and Ruth Lee Vinson recently joined Little Joe's Church after the revival services conducted by Mr. Goodman.

Twenty-one of our 32 girls were recently vaccinated for smallpox.

Elizabeth Robards
—Martha Price

RUMPLE HALL

Hi Folks,

It has been a long time since we dish washers have had a chat with you.

Vacation time has started and one of our girls, Marjorie Lail, left Tuesday. We miss her a lot. Many others are expecting to go soon.

We are having some work done in the dining room now. It is about finished.

Three of our girls are going to the Young People's Conference at Mitchell. They are Margaret Presnell, Glenn Linsday, and Sara Parcell.

Seven of our girls were vaccinated for smallpox last week. Some of them got sick with their arms. We hope all of them don't get sick.

Two new girls have come to live with us. They are Margaret Jarvis, from Washington, and Janet Cobb, from Wilson. We are glad to have them in our cottage and hope we can make them as happy to be here as we are to have them. Two girls from Howard cottage have come to live with us also. They are Mary Johnson and Lillian Sanders.

We have been going in swimming for about two weeks. We are all enjoying it these days. Every one gets excited about swimming time.

Mary Parks Allen had a nice visit from her daddy this week.

This is the dish washers saying good-by until next month.

—Margaret Presnell
Louise Everette.

TRUCK FARM

Hello Everbody,

We are speaking to you from the fields.

Our crops are coming on good. We are growing watermelons, cantaloupes, corn, tomatoes, cucumbers, beans, radishes, onions, squash, beets, lettuce, carrots, and cabbage.

We are grubbing Irish potatoes, and setting out sweet potatoes now.

We are glad to have Joe Savage back with us. He has been in the hospital for several days.

Worth Bolton, who also went to the hospital, is still out and will not be able to work for a while.

We will prabably have more to say next month, but until then we are signing off.

FLASHES FROM THE FARM

Last week the farmers were kept busy cutting barley and oats, which are now shocked in the field waiting to be threshed.

Sunday morning, June 6, the boys who feed the mules walked into the barn and found that we have a new member. One of our mares (Maude) had given birth to a colt. We have not named it yet.

About the middle of this month we will start cutting wheat from which our bread is made. We expect to have more this year than we had last year.

We are now hauling manure to spread over the oat field which will make the soil richer.

This is all we have to tell you for this time and must bid you adieu until next month.

are closely connected with the school.

Barium does not have a full time physical director. The work of this particular individual is divided up among the members of the faculty, and one member of the Orphanage staff other than the faculty.

The debating, declamation and activities of this kind are under the sponsorship of Mr. LeRoy Sossamon, our English teacher. Some interesting statistics on our school are inserted below.

Right now, we are arranging to put back domestic science into our curriculum. If we had put off writing this article for another 12 months, we believe a number of additional interesting things could be included.

Take a look at the members of the high school faculty whose likenesses are displayed in this issue. We don't know how they look to you, but we believe they are the best in North Carolina.

One of the big achievements of the high school, principally the senior class, is the publication of The Spotlight, our High School Annual. You would have to see a copy of this fine book to appreciate. The first issue was in 1924 and has been published continuously ever since.

SEVERAL AUXILIARIES

acted in that capacity for three prior years, conceived the idea of the various Circles in her Auxiliary "adopting" some of the cottages at the Orphanage, doing things for those cottages that would make them more habitable, livable and attractive to the children. She proceeded to get each Circle to elect an Orphanage Secretary and the Circle then decided upon which cottage it wanted to adopt.

The Circle Orphanage Secretary wrote the matron of the cottage which the Circle had adopted and asked the matron to list her various needs, and from that list the Circle would select the project or projects it wanted to undertake according to the financial ability of the individual groups.

The idea advanced one step further. The Trinity Avenue Circle could not "adopt" but a few of the cottages, so leaders of the Durham First Auxiliary were invited in for a conference. As an outgrowth, Durham First Auxiliary adopted Jennie Gilmer and Howard Cottages, and Trinity Avenue Auxiliary selected Lee's, Rumple Hall, Alexander and the Woman's Building. Different Circles took each one.

Some of the things being given for these cottages include curtains, curtain rods, shades, dresser scarfs, table runners, paint, and a great number of smaller things.

The people of these three Auxiliaries were not simply content to undertake these things. They came to Barium. A committee of three came over from the Concord First Auxiliary and a group of 10 ladies visited the Orphanage from Durham. Most of the latter remarked, "We see lots of things that are needed that the matron didn't list," to which the reply was, "The matrons were trying to give you some of the most essential needs".

The Highland Auxiliary at Fayetteville has decided to fix up the memorial room, named in honor of one of its members, in the Lottie Walker, or Woman's Building. They have sent the Orphanage $25.00 to be spent on that room. Included in the things to be done are painting the room, beds and radiators, curtains, shades, bed-spreads, a picture or two and other things until the $25.00 is spent on that room. Other Auxiliaries, it is understood here, expect to make appropriations to fix up their memorial rooms.

Covenant Auxiliary in Fayetteville Presbytery made a very beautiful quilt early this spring. It was a quilt for the Orphanage, but instead of sending it here, it was sold. It brought the munificent sum of $25.00. That was a powerfully useful quilt to the Orphanage!!!

VASS S. S. AND KINGS

1936. A difference of 4.1 cents per member separates Kings Mountain and Winston-Salem Presbyteries.

Every Presbytery showed a per capita gain in the regular Sunday giving for the past 12 months. In addition to Winston-Salem's increase of 8.2 cents, other increases were Kings Mountain, 4.2c; Orange and Wilmington, 3.8c each; Fayetteville, 2.8c; Albemarle, 1.8c Mecklenburg, 1.3c; Concord, 1.2c, and Granville, one cent.

In the July issue of The Messenger will be a tabulation of the contributions of every Sunday School in the Synod which aided the Orphanage in 1936-1937 (all gifts to the support fund except Thanksgiving Offerings included). The Sunday Schools will be first arranged according to their rank in their respective Presbyteries, and the second tabulation will be the Sunday Schools, in order, that averaged as much as 50 cents per member. It is interesting that 76 Sunday Schools are classified among the leaders; last year there were 59.

Here's the per capita averages of the Presbyteries for the past four years:

MRS. JOE CLARK DIED

Georgia, at East Monbo, Olin and several other schools in North Carolina.

On October 3, 1916, she was married to Mr. Joe Clark. He survives along with four children, Mrs. Charlotte Pope, Rufus, Joe and Martha Clark, all of Barium Springs. Other survivors are her mother; two sisters, Mrs. J. T. Spencer, of Leslie, S. C., and Miss Hallie Trotter, of Charlotte, and three brothers, Thos. H. Trotter, of Bideford, Maine; W. M. Trotter, of Tulsa, Okla. and J. S. Trotter, of Charlotte.

The funeral services were held at Little Joe's Church at Barium Springs, Saturday morning, May 22nd, at 11 o'clock, with Rev. W. C. Brown, pastor, in charge. He was assisted by three Troutman ministers, Rev. J. L. Hood, pastor of the A. R. P. Church; Rev. Q. O. Lyerly, pastor of the Lutheran Church, and Rev. J. W. Combs, pastor of the Methodist Church. Interment was in Oakwood Cemetary in Statesville.

Pallbearers for the funeral were S. A. Grier, J. H. Lowrance and George Neel, all of Barium Springs; B. S. Linville and Carl Pope, both of Troutman, and Walker McLean, of Statesville.

The large number of people who attended the funeral and the many beautiful floral designs were testimony as to the esteem and regard in which Mrs. Clark was held by friends over a wide territory.

Heartfelt sympathy is extended to all her loved ones.

REV. W. C. BROWN

Raeford. For the last nine years he was in Raeford he served the Raeford Church alone.

From Raeford he came to the local pastorate in December, 1924. During the intervening years he has been a faithful pastor and a fervent minister of the gospel at Little Joe's Church. In those 12½ years at the Orphanage he has led many to profess faith in Christ. Not a single graduate has left Barium who has not been a member of Little Joe's Church during Mr. Brown's ministry.

Mr. Brown has not definitely decided where he and Mrs. Brown and their daughter, Miss Mary Brown, will establish residence after retirement on July 1st. It will most likely be either in Raeford or at High Point.
